The question of judges was taken up and [illegible] suggestions were made that Dr. [illegible] Sprowls, of Donora, [illegible] H. W. Temple and Mr. McKee, county agriculturist, of Washington, be invited to pass on the merits of the exhibits, the judging to be done the first day.

It was announced that the members of the eighth grade of the public schools would be present on the first day.

On motion of Mr. Berryman it was decided that cards of merit be secured and given to all those who make displays at the Fair.

The advertising committee was directed to secure these cards at once, so that they would be available by the time the exhibit opened.

Judges for the fancy work and needle work will be selected from among the ladies.

It was also decided to grant exhibit space to a lady from Allenport who wishes to display the "pressure cooker."

The meeting also decided that materials for display must be brought to Turner Hall on Wednesday and not later than Thursday noon, in order to have them in their proper place at the opening of the show.

A pleasing feature of the exhibition will be a display of electric lights along the streets in the vicinity of the hall. This matter was left to Mr. Shaffer. It is likely the display will be on one night before the Fair.

This included the business of the evening and the meeting adjourned to meet next Friday evening.

TO CLAIM DAMAGES FOR DISCRIMINATION

The Pittsburgh and [illegible] Coal Operators' Association on Friday announced that damage claims to the amount of several hundred thousand dollars will be filed before the Interstate Commerce Commission within 60 days as the result of a decision recently rendered in which the Wabash Railroad is found to have discriminated in car supply against members of the association.

The Avella Coal company in 1917 alleged the Pittsburgh & West Virginia Railroad was discriminating in favor of mines on the West Side Belt Railroad. The commission finds the charges have been fully sustained and that the Avella company and others are entitled to damages. No sums were awarded, as there was nothing before the commission to show the amount of damages. Claims will be filed, it is stated, by several companies which belong to the association and which suffered losses.

County Committee To Assemble At Washington to Outline Plans

LARGE ATTENDANCE EXPECTED

A great deal of interest attaches to a meeting to be held Monday next of the Harding Campaign Committee, as well as meetings of various other committees recently appointed by C. E. Carothers, chairman of the Republican county committee.

Preliminary [illegible] of various [illegible] scheduled to be [illegible] in the morning, [illegible] all members of [illegible] gather at the [illegible] where lunch will [illegible] addresses will [illegible] Congressman Temple, [illegible] Martin of Waynesburg [illegible]. Mr. Carothers has [illegible] from practically all [illegible] will be in [illegible] the 30th and [illegible] the Republican [illegible] Washington county is [illegible]. Chairman Carothers arrived in Washington on Friday, and will give his personal attention to the plans and program for the meeting to be held on Monday.

The campaign, so far, has been very quiet throughout the county, but the meeting of Monday will likely see the end of 'marking time", and a definite outline and plan of action determined upon. Chairman Carothers will be backed by the members of the county committee in solidifying and bringing out the Republican vote, not only for the national, but for the district and county tickets. Just what meetings will be arranged for is yet to be determined, and will depend largely possibly on the assignment of speakers for this section of the state. The campaign has but a little over two months to run, but these will be months of activity in a political way, and in which voters will be given a great deal of information, as well as instruction. The women vote will also be given a great deal of attention, and no doubt the committee at its meeting on Monday will urge members to use their influence to have as many women as possible appear at the various polling places on Tuesday and Wednesday next and register for the coming election.

EXPECT MANY WOMEN TO REGISTER NEXT WEEK

It is anticipated that many of the women of Charleroi, eligible to vote, will have their names placed on the registry lists next Tuesday and Wednesday. On these days the registers are expected to be at the polls, when and where they will be ready to register those who apply. While there has been no concerted move here on the part of the women to register it is believed many will avail themselves of the privilege.

EDUCATION'S VALUE

How many boys who went from the junior high schools proper last spring to the high school are going to continue their studies this fall?

On the answer to that question depends very largely how many boys will be prosperous citizens a few years hence how many will be making their mark in the world, and how many will have ordinary jobs, or worse than that, will be failures.

We used to merely guess that education paid in dollars and cents. But recently statistics, carefully compiled and thoroughly reliable, have been presented to prove that the boy who sacrifices possible earnings in his youth for the sake of an education gets back all he lost and much more in later years.

Also, out of a total of 150,000 persons it has been found that without a grammar school education only one won distinction. With a grammar school education four became distinguished. With a high school education 87 reached distinction, and with a college education 800 reached that enviable degree of popular estimation.

With boys receiving wages that men could scarcely reach a few years ago, it is difficult to restrain the temptation to take advantage of immediate earnings to the detriment of preparation by schooling for higher and more expert lines of work in the future. Parents who have sons who must take this choice before the opening of the fall term of school ought to think most seriously before they decide in favor of the dollar today as compared with the two or three that the future with education will bring.

AN EDITOR'S REWARD

After running a small town newspaper for more than a third of a century, William C. Palmer, of Jewell county, Kansas, looks back over the field with entire satisfaction, as indeed he should. Recently he retired from active management of the paper, and in doing so took occasion to make these few remarks:

"I have put over thirty-six years of my life into the paper. Some folks say a man is a fool to put so much into a little country newspaper, but I must say they have been brief and happy years and that they have brought me a great reward; the reward of enjoying every one of them; the reward of happiness in any work; the reward of having a conviction that I was trying to serve a community and a people for whom I have a deep and sincere affection."

When a man puts all there is in him into any enterprise he has his reward. It doesn't make any difference about the size of the business he is engaged in. The store keeper, the laborer, the professional man can find as rich a reward in things well done here at home as if he were the head of some great concern in a distant city. Mr. Palmer's reward for running the Jewell county weekly was just as great as that of Joseph Pulitzer in running the New York World. In fact, we believe that Mr. Palmer really had a better time in life, and greater satisfaction, and succeeded in just as large an extent, everything considered, as Mr. Pulitzer did.

THE SUGAR PROFITEERS

We notice that the big profiteers who filled their warehouses so full of sugar that the said warehouses needed rubber walls and rubber roofs, and who held it there until sugar went up to 30 and 32 cents a pound to the dismay of all American women folks, are now down on their knees beseeching the government's help in their clamity of slumping prices.

Many of them bought sugar from the refineries at 12 to 18 cents, expecting to sell it for double and make millions. Now there is every indication that they will have to sell to the grocers at from 8 to 12 cents—perhaps less. Having in vain begged the grocers to buy for God's sake they now are begging the government to "do something," anything that will save them from loss.

Remember your dead. W. S Cook and Co. Monuments with Lawrence Frye Funeral Director. 20Std

Millions of people in the United States bought Liberty Bonds at 100 cents on the dollar. They have watched these bonds sink to as low as 83 and 84 cents on the dollar. The government refused to extend relief to bond buyers. Much less should it go to the relief of a lot of profiteers.

WHY TWO VERSIONS

Professor William Starr Myers comments upon the fact that nobody connected with the Administration, from the President down, has explained the radical discrepancy between the English and French versions of the Covenant of the League. The English version, which the President wanted the Senate to ratify, provides that nothing in the Covenant shall affect the Monroe Doctrine. The French version, which was adopted at Versailles, provides that nothing in the Monroe Doctrine shall affect the Covenant. Professor Myers' theory as to the origin of the discrepancy is plausible and interesting, to the effect that M. Leon Bourgeois took advantage of the President's ignorance of French to put one over on him. But if we had to have a delegate to the Conference who was ignorant of the language chiefly spoken by those with whom he came in contact, where were all the costly interpreters and experts who were taken across in the Ark of the Covenant to assist him?—Harvey's Weekly.

AN EARLY POLL

In the recent Ohio primaries the number participating as Republicans was 280,000 against 125,000 participating as Democrats. An extraordinary Republican majority was thus foreshadowed.

Similar news comes from California. The total primary enrollment is 1,250,000. Out of this number 780,000 enrolled as Republicans against 252,000 enrolled as Democrats. It is not easy to consider California a doubtful state.

A campaign of noisy misrepresentation in behalf of Governor Cox is now in full swing. It is especially loud in Eastern newspapers, but there is no sign that the voters are caught by it. Many charges, mostly untrue, are made about leagues of peace. But the voters know who beat it and are not deceived.—New York Tribune.

According to a recent report it is estimated that the sum of $8,000,000,000 is spent by Americans each year for luxuries. This means that every family in the country pays out $7.00 each week that it might save, which in a year amounts to $364.00. Among the various items are $2,110,000,000 for tobacco, $800,000,000 for cigarettes, $1,000,000,000 for candy, $50,000,000, for chewing gub, $350,000,000 for soft drinks and soda water. The country's annual bill for perfumery and face powder is $750,000,000.

Rev. John R. Burson, pastor of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church, returned last evening from his summer vacation, which was spent at Chautauqua, and at his old home in Clarksville, Greene county.

John Lyle, of Newell, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Sadie Pool, Lock No. 4, this morning. Funeral announcement will be made later.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Brenning have returned home after spending a few weeks at Point Pleasant and Asbury Park, N. J.

Women may not be able to throw a stone, but this coming fall they will be able to cast a vote.

Polo Long Popular Game.

Though not so stated in any work of reference, polo, of which a public grand tournament was held at Hurlingham recently, came to England indirectly from Trebizond. There the present Kabak Meidan, or Pumpkin square, occupies the site of a medieval polo ground. The game found great favor with the nobles of Trebizond, and was played much in the same way as modern polo. It produced immense excitement among the spectators, rivaling that of the hippodrome, and was popular possibly because it was dangerous as well as fashionable. Polo caused the death of one emperor of Trebizond, John I, who was killed by a fall from his pony.—London Mail.

Sad Page in History.

On July 26, in 1758, Louisburg, a French fortress upon the island of Cape Breton, Canada, was captured by a force of New England militia and British regulars numbering 12,000 men and a fleet of 40 ships. The British were commanded by Sir Jeffrey Amherst and General Wolfe. After the fall of the fortress, the 5,000 men remaining in the French garrison were made prisoners and the Acadians, the French settlers in the surrounding provinces, were forcibly driven from their homes and transported to English colonies. The dispersal of the Acadians is the subject of Longfellow's "Evangeline."

REGULAR MEETING OF BOARD OF HEALTH

A regular meeting of the Charleroi Board of Health was held at the office of the board in the Borough building last evening. Mr. Darby, the health officer, reported that the garbage hauler was charging higher rates than allowed by council. He was directed to appear before council at its next regular meeting, and report the same to that body for action. The health officer also made a report of the number of contagious diseases in the borough at the present time and those reported during the month. He also made his report on the number of nuisances abated as well as other phases of his work, some of which concerned the cleanliness and sanitary condition of meat shops, mention of which had previously been made. This concluded the business of the evening and the meeting adjourned.

SAY TRESPASSERS ARE STEALING CORN

Farmers in the vicinity of Fayette City are complaining of people stealing corn from their fields. In some instances the corn is pulled before it is matured. The boys later confessed to taking the corn with the intention of selling it.

HARBINGERS of the Modes of Autumn

Fur Lavishly Applied Enriches the Effectiveness of Advance Suit Modes

In several models this mode of trimming is combined with embroidery of dull gold. Sometimes embroidery is the only adornment the Suit boasts. And in still other designs, trimming, other than unique collars, cuffs, pockets and belts of shoe string width that encircle the waist two and three times, is omitted. Duvet de laine, tricotine, and velour are some of the fabrics shown. For color these New Suits cling tenaciously to the variously shades of brown.

Frocks Forecasting the Modes of Autumn

Judging from the early Autumn frock interpretations which we have assembled after considerable effort, the new season will see long sleeves return to favor. This we are sure, will be true in woolen frocks, and those which are designed for street wear. Afternoon Dresses, many of them are of satin — have elbow sleeves. Tricotine is again a popular fabric and navy blue and brown vie for favor.

INFLEXIBLE STANDARDS OF SERVICE

Most women gauge a store's value to them by the service [illegible] not only during those periods when their needs are of greater magnitude but also at the times when their wants may be few and far between. They like to patronize a store where they are assured of the same prompt attention and courtesy whether they purchase an entire wardrobe or only a collar or perhaps a handkerchief. Those who visit our store for the first time will find an atmosphere and courteous intelligent service that has won the patronage of a growing circle of friends.

WHEN THE SMALLEST CHOKER ENDOWS ITS WEARER WITH CHARM

"It's a perfectly stunning costume, but she needs a bit of Fur at the throat to give it the proper finishing touch." How many times haven't you seen the wisdom of that critical assertion proved beyond a doubt? And nobody knows better than our Fur Buyer how much a well chosen Choker improves a frock or a suit so he has gathered together a really notable collection of them. You may choose any one of them at a very special price during our August Fur Sales.

BIRDS HAVE VARIOUS NAMES

Get Cognomens From Habits or Plumage Though Not Infrequently From Song or Call.

Birds are given various names in various parts of the country; some get these names from their habits, others from their plumage, while the song, or call, in other cases is responsible for the nickname of the bird, according to London Answers.

The cuckoo has two names. The meadow pipit is known as the cuckoo's mate in some parts of the country because of its habit of always accompanying the cuckoo from place to [illegible] the tale of its stay in this [illegible]. The wry neck gets the same name [illegible] season. It arrives in [illegible] about the same time, or a few days earlier than the cuckoo, and [illegible] the name has been given [illegible].

Making a Citizen.

[illegible] If you begin [illegible] to stick to your job until you make a success of it. Persistence will help you win, when you put your head to work. These are the first things in the making of citizens. The home and the school must work together to produce it.—Grit.

July was originally the fifth month of the Roman year. In the Alban calendar it had a complement of 36 days, which was reduced to 31 and then to 30, and it stood thus for many centuries.

At length Julius Caesar restored it to 31. He felt a personal interest in July, as it was his natal month. After the death of this great law-giver and reformer Marc Antony changed the name from Quintilis to July, in honor of Caesar's family name, in order to note that as the sun was most potent at this time so was Caesar the most powerful potentate who had ever lived. Our Saxon ancestors called July "Hey Monath" because they usually moved their hay at that period of the year.—Chicago Journal.

Black Hole of Calcutta.

This name was given to an apartment in Calcutta in which a party of English were confined on the night of June 20, 1756. The garrison of the fort connected with the English factory at Calcutta was captured by the Nawab Siraj-ud-Doula, who caused all the prisoners taken to be confined in a room 18 by 14 feet 10 inches. This cell had only two windows, obstructed by a veranda. Of the 150 people who spent the night in a horror of thirst, heat and agony from pressure, only 23 survived the experience.

Natural Explanation.

"Why is it that the dark horses in a political convention always keep so quiet?"

"Because, under the circumstances, the word with none of them can be nay."

MONESSEN S. S. CONVENTION WILL MEET TOMORROW

The annual convention of the Monessen District Sunday School Association will be held Sunday afternoon and evening in the Christian church of that borough. Among the speakers will be J. C. Silsey and Hon. D. J. Snyder, of Greensburg. In the evening the churches of the borough will be closed and the congregations given an opportunity to attend the meetings. A fine program has been arranged. New officers for the incoming year will be elected at the evening session.

EXPECT REDUCTION IN PRICE OF COAL

A slump in bituminous coal prices is expected as a result of increasing production. President Morrow, of the National Coal Association, is authority for this statement. There will be a surplus of 40,000,000 tons by December 1, if the present rate of production keeps up, according to a survey of the coal situation just completed by a well known coal magazine editor.

NEW PARK FOR A RECREATION [illegible]

The American Steel and Wire company of Donora, through its welfare department, is continually on the outlook for conditions which will be for the betterment of their employes.

Last year they gave over a portion of their land below Donora for a base ball park, and now they have added to this feature by preparing another park, back on the hills, which will be available for picnics and outings.

The first big picnic ever given by the employes of the Donora mills was held last Saturday, at which time Palmer Park, formerly known as Charlesworth Grove, embracing about thirty acres of land, was dedicated to the welfare of the employes and christened in honor of the head of the industrial concern.

The thousands who visited the park on Saturday were amazed at the changes wrought by the company. The underbrush had all been cleared away; there were shady nooks with comfortable benches; tables suitable for picnic parties; shelter houses, swings, seesaws, slides and many other devices for the children, all built substantially by the company carpenters, most of the improvements being of a permanent character.

Next year there will be improvements at Palmer Park, according to well authenticated reports. Rumor has it that they include a vast swimming pool, or artificial lake. Already a base ball diamond has been fashioned and this will be additionally improved next spring.

When contemplated plans are carried out Palmer Park will represent a substantial investment upon the part of the company, but the employes of the Donora steel mills will have the finest recreation center in western Pennsylvania, it is said. All of which is another indication the American Steel and Wire company is interested in its employes and in the health and happiness of their employes.

The right of way on the improved roads seems to belong to the heavy car that push the little fellows into the ditch.

MUST ANSWER TO COURT ON PAROLE VIOLATION

John Chrust, a well known former restaurant keeper of Donora, and recently taken into custody by the officers of that borough in two raids on alleged gambling houses in that town, was arrested Thursday morning and taken to the County jail by Constable Titus. The prisoner was taken up on a bench warrant issued by Judge James I. Brownson, ordering Churst brought into court forthwith to show cause why he should not be remanded to jail to serve the remainder of an old sentence for conducting a gambling house in Donora, upon which he had been given a parole. It is alleged that Chrust has violated the parole.

[illegible] INSTITUTE WHICH BEGINS TODAY

Charleroi teachers have all returned from their vacations and are getting [illegible] attending the Washington [illegible] Institute, to be held in Monongahela, beginning Monday next. A fine program has been arranged for this Institute, and one which it is believed will be of great benefit to the teachers. There are sixty-seven teachers in Charleroi public schools, practically all of whom will be in attendance. There are a few vacancies to be filled but these Prof. Pollock expects to have taken care of before the opening of schools on the [illegible] of September.

The steamer Edgar Thomason of the Carnegie line, was compelled to return from Brownsville on Friday, without a tow, because of a broken pitman strap on the larboard side. This is the third time within two weeks that the steamer has suffered a similar accident, and expert engineers will now try to locate the trouble.
